PRIDAY, JANUARY W. 1894

THE wife of Congressman W. A Harris died at her home in Leavenworth county last week.

THE injunction restraining J. G. Freeborn, Mrs. Lease's successor, from acting as a member of the State Board of Charities was dismissed last Saturday in the supreme court.

ENGLAND furnishes the best example of the rapid growth of socialism. The government now carries on over one hundred functions which were formerly left to individualism.

LONDON, Glasgow and other British cities buy up slum property, clean h off, erect substantial tenement houses and rent apartments at moderate rates. We may get many pointers from the old world in municipal government.

WARD MCALLISTER Says that if congress passes the income tax law "the best people of this country will be fo ced to live abroad. Gentlemen will not submit to having their private affairs invaded." Too bad. How e ald we afford to lose Ward?

WE desire to repeat a question ve asked some time ago to which no answer has yet been given. Suppose the farmers of Kansas should combine together and decline to pay the taxes leyled upon their property by the assessors, as the railroads have done, what would republican papers call them? If the Capital will condescend to answer the question perhaps the "me-too" papers will copy the answer .- Adoocate.

SECRETARY OF STATE OSBORNE has turned into the state treasury something over $1,800-fees collected by him for the year ending January 1st. All the republican secretaries who preceded Mr. Osbore pocketed this snug sum in addition to their salary. Multiply this amount by thirty-two, the number of years that Kansas was under republic mis-rate, and you will see how Yet, in the face of these facts, there are some people so blind as to think the republican party ought to be returned to power in Kansas.-Marion

THE Committee of Associated Charities for the District of Columbia re cently made the statement that 50 per cent of the workingmen of Washington were out of employment, and that hundreds of those who were compelled to accept charity or starve were of the skilled working class who had never before asked aid and were humiliated beyond description that they were obliged to receive it and suffered untold torture before they revealed the state of their domestic affairs. In the face of such facts, which are hourly coming to light, some people who profess to think continue to sneer at all those out of employment as if they were professional tramps.

THE GOVERNMENTAL OPERATION OF MAILROADS IS a suggestion that sends a chill down the backs of many who think it means the next thing to revolution. "THE ironclad rule under which telegraph and agreement telephone companies mutually im ede the officiency of each other's service" has roused the wrath of the Boston Herald. It contrasts this service with that in Germany, where the telephone and telegraph are branches of the postal service and are run for the benefit of the public. The Herald says: "If a person in Germany has a telephone, and a telegram is received for him, he is at once called up and the contents of the message are orally communicated to him, the written disputch being forwarded in addition in the regular course. Teleand south railroad has been filed with grams are also orally sent to the office by telephone subscribers, and are ti us forwarded with the least possible delay. And if it is more convenient to send a nessage to a distant point by telephone than by telegraph, as, for instance, to a small place where there is no telegraph office, this is done. Telegrams are delivered by special delivery service of the postoffice. In such ways as these the German mail, telegraph and telephone services are made to co-op. rate, thus promoting their respective efficiency to a remarkable degree."

In less than an hour after the traitor Noland had perpetrated this great wrong the News proprietors were boast. ing that they had downed the Gazette; that the Gazette would cease to exist. We have no knowledge as to what the effect of the traitor's work will have on the prosperity of the Gazette We are of the opinion however that it will still live. We have no interest personally in its sucess, but we have interest, as every good citizen should have, in fair play, and the just rights of every newspaper enterprise. It has been suggested that petition be circulated calling on this Judas Iscariot to resign. The good people of Hutchinson were bocked last Monday at noon by the news that Commissioner Noland ha turned traitor to the party and re-ple who had honored him with an offic and had gone over to the republica party, or rather the republican cout ouse ringsters and thieves.

The first intimation that the public and that Noland was being tampered with was when he was seen promenading the streets with such cattle as John Vincent and John Sponsler. This had been going on for several days, No land being drunk about all the time. The first outright act was to second the motion of Fleming to make the Nees the official paper and let the write up his reasons for leaving the party and going to the republicans Among his reasons were: "That he was opposed to socialism and single ten by somebody who had not the tax and that he had always opposed Governor Lewelling's action in the legislature muddle." He seems to have forgotten that he was one of the loudest-mouthed advocates of the Dunsmore house in the county last spring.
